CM administers HAA...

The chief minister called on the people that Arunachali as an identity must come first before one's respective tribe. He urged that such feelings must be infused in the minds and hearts of people for better future of Arunachal.

The chief minister further said to bring together all tribal communities, government exercises such as budget preparation involves consultation with all community bodies. This is to give out the message that Team Arunachal is a government represented by every section of people, he said. However, there are certain bad elements that must fight who are trying to derail the unity and peace in the state, said Khandu. To must fight such elements, along with police modernization, people must also start to take ownership and act as citizen police to build society free of crime, he said.

The chief minister further said any breakdown in law and order discourages investment, which is vital for economic development of the state. To maintain law and order in the state, people need to be made equal participant, he asserted.
